Description

Villa Aublé was designed and built by Pierre Aublé in 1883 for him and his family to live in. Victor Hugo once stayed here. It has been recently renovated to provide six individual apartments. The building is an architectural gem and features a plaque outside proclaiming it as one of St Raphael's most beautiful villas. Anna's Fabulous Apartment now offers a stunning location in which to spend a unique and unforgettable stay. The most notable features are the 4.35m ceilings, brand new open kitchen and marble terrace opening onto a natural garden of verdure and tranquillity.

The salon offers comfortable sofa seating, solid oak parquet flooring and a beautiful hand-made modern chandelier which sets the style for the rest of the apartment. Indoor dining is at the large kitchen island but most meals will be taken on the terrace overlooking the gardens and with a view towards Fréjus.

The bedroom is large and features a double bed.

Above the kitchen is a mezzanine area with two x 1.20m beds and a sitting area. The mezzanine is reached by a 'French ladder' so would be best suited for older children or fit adults.

Integrated air conditioning throughout the apartment.

The villa is probably in the best location in the whole of St Raphael for access to, well, just about everything! Great restaurants, shops, the port, beaches, train station and bus stop are all within a few hundred metres. There is even a 5-screen multiplex cinema close by.
